

Accessory Dwelling Units (ADU)

An Accessory Dwelling Unit (ADU) is a separate, complete housekeeping unit limited to two (2) bedrooms, kitchen, sleeping area, and full bathroom facilities. ADUs may be either detached (standalone or above an accessory building) or attached (in a basement or in an attached addition) to an existing dwelling. ADUs are only allowed on single-family detached lots.

SIZE

- The total of all of the accessory square footage on a property cannot exceed the primary square footage. The primary structure square footage is determined by calculating the square footage of the primary living space. The ADU, all detached and attached garages, and any other accessory structures count toward the total accessory square footage.
- The footprint of an accessory structure may not exceed 75% of the footprint of the primary structure. The footprint shall include attached garages and fully enclosed porches, but shall not include decks or porches, even if covered.

The table below shows the maximum size of an ADU allowed on a property, which depends on the lot size and whether the ADU is attached or detached.

	Attached Unit	Detached Unit
Minimum Lot Size	Minimum lot size of underlying zone district	1 acre +	12,500 sq. ft. to 1 acre	7,500 sq. ft.
Maximum ADU Size	1,200 sq. ft. or 40% of primary unit*	1,200 sq. ft. or 40% of primary unit*	800 sq. ft. or 40% of primary unit*	600 sq. ft. or 40% of primary unit*

* Whichever is less

 Detached accessory dwelling units are not permitted on lots less than 7,500 sq. ft.

- If Public: Letter from Water District stating that they approve of two (2) dwelling units on the property.
- If Well: Well Permit and a letter from the Colorado Division of Water Resources that states the existing well permit can accommodate a second dwelling unit.

SANITATION
