

Five Simple Steps to Safe Food

Educate

- Attend the Excellence in Food Safety Training.

Clean

- Wash hands and surfaces often.
- Clean (soap and hot water) and sanitize surfaces.

Separate

- Don't cross contaminate. Keep certain foods, like meats and their juices, from other foods during storage and preparation.

Cook

- Cook to proper temperatures. The "danger zone" is between 41F and 135F.
- Use a food thermometer to make sure foods are cooked to a safe temperature.

Chill

- Store cold foods at 41F or below.
- Cool hot food in 6 hours or less.

Excellence in Food Safety

A class for food handlers

JEFFERSON
COUNTY COLORADO
Public Health

*Every year in the United States, approximately 48 million people (roughly 1 in 6) get sick, 128,000 are hospitalized and nearly 3,000 people die from foodborne illnesses. Reducing foodborne illness by just 10% would keep 5 million Americans from getting sick each year. *CDC

Excellence in Food Safety is a training class designed to reduce the risk of foodborne illness and unsafe food handling practices. The class is specifically developed for food service personnel, but anyone interested in food safety is encouraged to attend.

Learn about:

- Potentially hazardous foods
- Time/temperature control
- Personal hygiene
- Cross-contamination
- Sanitation techniques and
- Other food safety principles.
