Abrakadoodle - Employer
2016

THE CHALLENGE

It has been very difficult to locate teachers interested in part-time work with good class room management skills. We had to find a new recruiting pipeline.

THE SOLUTION

I posted the job on Connecting Colorado. This made the job visible to job seekers and allowed me to search the online resumes looking for potential candidates.

THE OUTCOME

We have located more qualified candidates than with the other methods we have tried. As a direct result of searching online we located several qualified candidates and interviewed and hired a new art teacher. She has been able to step in and be productive immediately.
