2015

THE CHALLENGE

When the recession negatively impacted the business Laura's family owned, she needed employment. Having not been active in the job market for over 15 years, she needed help updating her resume.

THE SOLUTION

Participating in the many workshops, career fairs, and networking opportunities available through the American Job Center helped Laura fine tune her resume and gain access to companies offering employment opportunities which matched her skill set.

THE OUTCOME

With the assistance of the American Job Center in general, and the Add-Me Academy in particular, Laura was able to interview with a number of well qualified employers. She secured a marketing position in the health care arena which is exactly the opportunity she was seeking.
